Department of Special Education

Open source softwares available at Madhya Pradesh Bhoj Open University to educate Special B.Ed. Students With Disability

Writing support

DiCom provides word prediction with personalization options. This can be a boost for poor spellers or slow typists.

Text-to-speech

AMIS - DAISY format reader

This is software used to read Digital Accessible Information System (DAISY) format books for blind and visually impaired learners. It is self-voicing which doesn't require screen-reading software.

DAISY enables navigation by audio and/or sight – see the Load2Learn video on using DAISY.

Balabolka

This fully featured text-to-speech and text to MP3 tool is free to use with pre-installed computer voices (eg the default Windows voices or other free or commercial voices).

Users can adjust the text display then read aloud and save in most popular audio formats. Files can be split into more manageable 'chunks'. Text can be highlighted as it is read, making it suitable for supporting reading skills.

Lingoes

Dictionary with built-in word pronunciation. It provides contextualised examples of the use of the word in a sentence and can be configured to display the output in users preferred fonts and sizes to improve readability.

CaptiVoice

A text to speech tool that can be used on all PCs and on mobile devices. Files and content can be uploaded and read as well as web and cloud-based content.
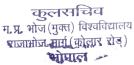

ATbar for Windows

Provides easy text to speech functionality.

Visual comfort on PCs

Desktop Zoom :Has options to zoom an area around the mouse, create a fixed zoom window or zoom the entire desktop. Colours can be inverted for clarity and the original screen can be made transparent.

ssOverlay : Creates a coloured overlay for the whole screen and T-bar provides a translucent coloured block you can either drag around the screen or lock to your mouse. Both can be downloaded as part of the MyStudyBar suite of tools from the Eduapps website.

Madhya Pradesh Bhoj (Open) University, Bhopal

Alternatively the ATBar from Southampton university provides colour overlay functionality as well as text to speech.

Screen readers

Screenreaders are one of the few assistive technologies which are not "productivity tools for all'. Learners with deteriorating sight may need support in making the transition to operating a computer by audio feedback alone.

WebbIE

WebbIE provides a free suite of utilities designed for blind and visually impaired people to provide access to digital news sources such as RSS and radio, including a browser based in Internet Explorer which can display web page as structured text.

WebbIE displays the text of the page in the user's choice of font with a simple toggle between the text view and the original page layout.

WebbIE helps users get familiar with the way webpages get presented via a screenreader.

Thunder

Thunder is a free basic screenreader available in several languages. It can navigate through lines and individual words with the keyboard cursor keys.

It works well with Windows 7, Vista or XP and integrates with Microsoft Word and WebbIE.

NVDA

Non Visual Desktop Access (NVDA) allows blind and vision impaired people to access and interact with their computers by providing feedback via synthetic speech and Braille.

NVDA is an excellent training ground for commercial screenreaders and can be run from a USB stick meaning it can offer independent access to computers that do not have a screenreader installed.

NVDA VERSION 2023.1

The NVDA screen reader can be downloaded free of charge by anyone. We do this because we believe everyone, especially the world's poorest blind people deserve access to computers and a way out of poverty. If you have the means, no matter how big or small, please consider making a donation before downloading NVDA. We rely on donations and grants to continue improving NVDA and to ensure it remains compatible with the world's rapidly changing technology.

Please note: NVDA is only available for PCs running Microsoft Windows 7 SP1 and later. If you require a version of NVDA that can still run on Windows XP or Vista, please download the much older NVDA 2017.3 for Windows XP instead. NV Access does not however recommend or support running this older version on newer Operating systems.
